Germantown Aesthetics has added to its practice The Vein Center, a comprehensive vein treatment facility at 7475 Poplar Pike.

The Vein Center will use laser equipment that provides the capability to treat both clinical and superficial vein insufficiencies.

“The Vein Center is equipped with the most advanced technology for both cosmetic and medical vein treatments,” Dr. Gregory Laurence, medical director at Germantown Aesthetics, said in a statement.

“This has enabled us to become one of the only vein centers in the region to offer such a diverse range of vein services.”
